Join us on Wednesday, April 27, 2022 at 1:00 p.m. ET, as guest speaker Deborah Steinberg, J.D., talks about Medicare coverage for substance use disorder (SUD) treatment. Specifically, attendees will learn about:

- Medicare's current coverage of SUD treatment.
- Medicare's coverage gaps for SUD treatment - including services, providers, settings, and anti-discrimination protections.
- Policy proposals to address these coverage gaps and our progress to date to improve Medicare's coverage for SUD care.

Speaker Information

Deborah Steinberg, J.D. is a Health Policy Attorney at the Legal Action Center where she advocates for state and federal policies to expand access to comprehensive and equitable substance use disorder and mental health care. She co-leads the Center's Medicare Addiction Parity Project, which seeks to improve Medicare's coverage of substance use disorder treatment. In this role, Deborah has testified before Congress, drafted legislation, and convened a national learning collaborative to ensure the policies for which she advocates are rooted in people's lived experiences. She graduated from Vassar College with a B.A. in Psychology and earned her J.D. from Georgetown University Law Center.
