Selecting the right treatment options for type 2 diabetes has never been more promising, or as complicated as it is today. With all of the current classes of diabetes medications, how does a clinician-patient team decide on the most appropriate medications along the course of a person's disease process, many of whom also have cardiovascular disease, heart failure, or chronic kidney disease? Join us to learn the latest type 2 diabetes consensus recommendations and decision-trees to help seniors and their care teams decide how to maximize care quality while mitigating risk and treatment burden. This call will feature an author of Management of Hyperglycemia in Type 2 Diabetes, 2018. A Consensus Report by the American Diabetes Association (ADA) and the European Association for the Study of Diabetes (EASD).

LEARNING OBJECTIVES:

- Discuss factors affecting treatment selection for type 2 diabetes
- Use or recommend SGLT2 inhibitors and GLP-1 receptor agonists in patients with type 2 diabetes, atherosclerotic cardiovascular disease, heart failure and chronic kidney disease
- Appropriately use or recommend GLP-1 receptor agonists as the first injectable for type 2 diabetes treatment, ahead of insulin

This event is open to beneficiaries, families, healthcare providers, practitioners, partners, End Stage Renal Disease Networks, and Quality Innovation Network-Quality Improvement Organizations.
